

BRIAN D. THOMPSON

Brian has been an American Fork resident for more than 30 years. He graduated from Brigham Young University with a degree in finance. After graduation, he served as a finance officer for the Central Intelligence Agency. Since then, he earned an MBA from BYU, as well as banking degrees from the American Institute of Banking and the Graduate School of Banking at Colorado University.

Brian has been with the Bank of American Fork since 1992 and has served as operations manager, controller and chief financial officer before assuming his current duties as senior vice president of treasury and administration in 2012.

Brian has always been heavily involved in extracurricular activities and has served as chairman of both the Utah Bankers Association's Convention Committee and Education Division, as well as a board member of the American Institute of Banking. Community involvement includes service to the American Fork Children's Choir, Alpine School District and the American Fork Chamber of Commerce.

Brian has also volunteered on a number of City Government boards and committees including the serving as Chairman and member of the American Fork Transportation Committee, Chairman of the American Fork Recreation Committee, President of Downtown American Fork, Inc., and Chairman of the PARC Tax Board.